The Sun Rises on Associa Arizona

The dawn of a new day and new era is coming. As holidays provide an opportunity to reflect, a rebirth of sorts has taken place as Lewis Management Resources fades into the sunset and the transformation to Associa Arizona became official on January 1, 2015.

For our board members, vendors and communities, Associa Arizona should serve as a beacon of strength, stability and loyalty unlike anything we have been able to articulate in the past. Lewis Management has been an Associa company for many years, but now we wear that badge on our sleeve reminding our constituents that Associa is North America's largest community association management firm serving more than 2 million homes across the United States, Mexico and Canada. Associa Arizona will continue to provide local expertise and service customers have come to expect from Lewis, but it's now more apparent that we have access to resources, services and offerings unmatched by our competitors. Taking on the Associa name assures communities that we are a part of the best firm in the business and the quality of service will reflect the reputation of the Associa name.

For our employees, I know that this name change and rebranding process furthers our renewed dedication, redefined family spirit, and rejuvenated passion for innovation, improvement and integrity. We are committed to continuing our revitalization efforts and this significant change reminds us why we got into this business and what we want to get out of it. I know that each of you will appreciate this transformation because it inspires us, and confirms that we are putting our best foot forward, to face each new day and new challenge.

Associa Arizona is a fresh step into a new era and an opportunity to forge a tighter connection with the people of Arizona and expand our presence in the marketplace. We are focused on improving the lives of homeowners. This is an exciting time and I've seen the positive outlook growing within the office. Remember the positivity and joy we feel in doing our job can be felt directly by the true beneficiaries... families, neighbors, and communities.

Welcome to Associa Arizona!
